

It's Really Me

1. Staring at the stars, my heart is open now.
Thinking of the day, can't help but wonder how Everything could change in one amazing afternoon, as gratefully I sing this simple tune
to you, my starry friends , and Mr. Moon.

Ch I know who I am, at last,
I'm thankful that I'm me, at last,
I don't know why I wasn't me before!
But here I am, it's really me, with Mr. Moon and twinkly friends galore!
And I am part of you, and you of me, my friends! I'm...

2. ...not a famous actor or a beauty queen;
I don't excel on tennis court or putting green,
but now that you accept me for exactly who I am
I'm free to be-exactly who I am.
Oh, I could pass the "Who are you?" exam!

Ch 'Cause, I know who I am, at last,
I'm thankful that I'm me, at last,
I don't know why I wasn't me before!
But here I am, it's really me, with Mr. Moon and twinkly friends galore!
And I am part of you, and you of me, my friends! I'm...

3. ...dancing with the stars, my heart is joyful now.
Thinking of the day, can't help but wonder how Everything could change with just another way to see-
I'm absolutely who I need to be.

I'm definitely, positively me!
I'm free to be who I was meant to be.
I'm happy that I'm not somebody else.
I'm just myself!
